BOSTON AVENUE INSTRUMENTAL ENSEMBLES

Dear Friend,

Do you play a musical instrument? If so, perhaps you would enjoy joining the Boston Avenue Symphonic Orchestra. This 30-member intergenerational ensemble (7th graders through adults) rehearses and performs during three concentrated periods each year. The orchestra offers a stimulating, fun, learning environment that combines professional musicians with talented adult and youth players. All those interested are welcome to join us!

Rob Reck
Director of the B. A. Symphonic Orchestra

Dear Friend,

Have you ever considered ringing handbells? If you haven't, you should! Ringing in a handbell choir is a fun way to offer your service to the worship life of our church while also providing a great opportunity for fellowship. While learning beautiful music, ringers who rehearse together weekly form a family that works, laughs, and sometimes cries together. Can't read music? You can ring if you can count to four! There is a place for folks of all ages in one of our Boston Avenue handbell choirs. Come and join our family!
